London, March 3-The trial of Gen. Nagle is progressing at Sligo. Yesterday was consumed in an unsuccessful attempt to get a mixed jury. The defence renewed its motion to remove the trial from the Court of the Queen's Bench. Not granted. The result will be that the trial will be moved to some place where a mixed jury can be obtained.

DUBLIN, March 2-The trial of Nugent is postponed in consequence of the illness of one of the jurors.

Paris, Feb 28-A contract has been closed between the National Telegraph Company and the Societe Cable Trans-Atlantic Paris.

Paris, Feb. 27-The officers of the French army now absent on furlough are directed to report at their headquarters on or before 31st of March. All existing furloughs terminate on that day.

LONDON, March 2-In the trial of Gen. Nagle on the charge of Fenianism at Sligo, a motion to delay the trial by the Counsel for the defence was refused. Heron, defendant's counsel, thereupon moved to transfer the case to the Queen's Bench. The chief grounds of this motion was the fact that there are not six Americans in the whole city of Sligo, and it would therefore be impossible to select a mixed jury there. George Francis Train unexpectedly appeared before the Court and volunteered to become an American juryman. His offer was declined, and the Court refused to transfer the case and thereupon proceeded to trial.

INVENTION -Mr P Cadell, of this city, has invented an apparatus for gold washing in alluvial diggings. The apparatus may be driven by water, horse or steam power. The water for washing is raised in buckets attached to the driving wheel, which are emptied into a cistern at the top of the machine, whence the water falls into the feed-boxes and drives the dirt into a c nical shazed enlinder which revolving with the same power that propels the wheel, thoroughly separates the coarse gold and gravel from the fine gold and gravel. The latter are then forced into a line of sluice-boxes with three compartments where the gold is caught by the ordinary riffles now in general use. The coarse gravel and gold are forced through the back part of the machine where another line of sluice boxes are set for the purpose of catching the nuggets. The machine is fed by cars which are run ou a tramway to the feed box and dumped. Mr Cadell says the plan of the cylinder of the machine is smilar to that in use in the gold mines of Ural Mountains for fifty years past, where it has been attended with great success. The remainder of the machine is his own invention. The advantages claimed for the machine are economy of time, money and labor and a more effectual method of esparating the precious metal from the dirt than any system now in use. A patent has been applied for.

A RULER WITHOUT A CAPITAL. - The translation of a curious work on Abyssinia bas just appeared in London. The book was written by one Jean Cossika, a Turk, and contains the following curious paragraph:

"Theodore has a perfect idea of centraliz ation. He is the first prince who offers the spectacle of an empire without a capital of the late revolutions, he saw that when the capital was taken all the rest ran the same danger. He said to himself therefore: " I will have no capital. My head shall be the empire and my tent the capital." Hence he is always followed by his Ministers and high functionaries."

Has the reader ever heard of a British Colony, which had for its head a Governor whose policy on the Seat of Government resembled King Theodore's ?-who carried the Colony in his breeches-pocket, and made a 'hovel 'his capital? We might, if we felt disposed, point out such a Governor, and we should not cross the mountains to find him

EDWARDS' BENEFIT-The performance for the benefit of George Edwards, on Wednesday evening was a great success. The audience was large and respectable, and the entertainment, under the conduct of Mr R G Marsh, gave entire satisfaction. The beneficiary appeared in the characters of 'Toby Twickle,' and 'Tom Tug,' and gathered fresh laurels of public approbation. The new song of ' Not for Joseph ' was enthusiastically encored, and Edwards sang 'The Swell' in his best style. The success of th entertainment was enhanced by the presence of Mrs Jenny Arnot Fowlis, the young actress Miss Yeoman, Mrs Marsh, George Marsh and by two amateur gentlemen-Mr Charles Clarke and Mr Musgrave Anderson-who admirably performed their respective roles The Zealous Band, under the leadership of Mr Gunther, was most effective.

SAD OCCURRENCE AT CHEMAINUS .- AD Englishman (name unknown to us, said to be a deserter from H M S Zealous) in the employ of a farmer at Chemainus, lost his life on Tuesday from the accidental discharge of a towling-piece. He was out gunning in a cance and had placed his weapon at full cock in the cance, when drawing it towards him it went off, the whole charge lodging in his heart and destreying life instantly. An inquest was held by Mr Morley and a verdict of accidental death returned.

FROM NANAIMO - The steamer Sir James Douglas returned from Nanaimo and way ports at 5 o'clock last evening, bringing 16 passengers,8 head of live stock and a quantity of Island produce. Among the passengers were Rev. Dr. Evans, Mr J F McCreight and Mr Morley, J. P. The ships Isaac Jeannes and Fanny are loading with coal for San Francisco. A steam engine to facilitate the discharging of ballast from ships has been placed on the wharf of the Coal Company.

BURRARD INLET-A greater amount 10 activity is observable at Burrard Inlet than was ever before noticed in that vicinity. The following vessels are loading lumber at Stamp's: The Commodore, for San Francisco; the Stevens for Australia; the Robt Cowan for Honolulu, S I. At Moody's Mills : the Rosalind for Honolulu and the Orient for San Francisco are taking in cargous; while the bark Marmora is on the way to Stamp's to load for Shanghae, and the ship Simoda for Moody's to load for the same destination.

THE Enterprise will return from New Westminster this evening.

THE POWDER MAGAZINE - Alarm is felt by James' Bay residents in consequence of the close proximity of the powder magazine to their dwellings. They say with truth that a Fenian match would blow half the inbabitants into eternity without a moment's warning and without any one being able to prevent the wicked act. The attention of the Mayor has been called to the peril, and steps will be taken to remove the cause of alarm.

MR. CLARKE'S BENEFIT .- In addition to other attractions to be presented upon the occasion of Mr Clarke's benefit, on Wednesday night next, Mr Bushell has composed a new set of Waltzes for the orchestra, which are termed the V. A. D. C. Waltzes. The Amateurs wish not only to give Mr Clarke a substantial benefit, but to afford the citizens of Victoria one of the rarest dramatic and musical treats they have ever enjoyed.

Protection against Dental Quackery.

At a recent State convention of Dentists At a recent State convention of Dentists held in Utica, N Y, the profession saw the necessity of some law to regulate the practice of dental surgery, and to protect the public against the evils of dental quackery. It is acknowledged that dental surgery is of the utmost importance to the community at large yet at the same time it is left without that least legal mark of dis inction, and without the test legal mark of dis inction, and without the same time is the processing of the same time. least legal mark of dis inction, and without the recognition by the enactment of a single law. Unscrupulous charlatans are on a par with the skillul operator. The consequence is that the public are often imposed upon, and by the mai-practice of the pretenders the masters in the art of dentistry are looked upon with suspicion. It is suggested that a minimum time should be prescribed by law, to which a would-be follower of dentistry should devote himself to the study of the science. In fact, that no dentist should be allowed to practice unless he could show a diploma (similar to these now pertaining to the medical profession) of his skill, and the necessary qualifications for the practice of theart. To make a good deatist a fair knowledge of medicine and surgery is required, and it is proposed that such a course of probation should be required by law. Showing the importance of such a law, it is estimated that $80,000,000 is expended in New York. the importance of such a law, it is estimated that $8,000,000 is expended in New York alone for decial operations. Before the convention adjourned it was resolved that a petition should be drawn up, asking the Legislature to pass such a law.

Southern Italy.

Rome this morning. As you are aware, his continued residence here since 1864 has caused great irritation to the Pontifical Government, which has summoned him to return repeatedly, which deprived from the honours and privileges of the Cardinalate and the Episcopate, and them unless he makes his reappearance in Rome before the 29th December.

D'Andrea's act of submission had been received. He has left behind him a copy of a letter dat d the 13th of December, which he forwarded to the Pope yesterday, and which runs as follows:

"Most Holy Father, - Passing over the two briefs, dated one the 12th of June, 1866, the other the 29th of September, 1867, which belong now to history, emitting every other consideration, and requesting a legal investigation, juris ordine of any offence against the Canonical or Common Law, I return to Rome principally for two motives; the first to give a proof of perfect abnegation, the second to emove from the minds of Catholics the idea that my residence in Naples, though justified by grave reasons of health, is any opposition to the Holy See,
"With sentiments of profound veneration, asking for the Apostolic benediction, I subscribe myself your most humble and devoted servant, "GIROLAMO, CARDINAL D'ANDREA, Bisho, of Sabrina, Ablot of Subiaco."

It is unwise, perhaps, to anticipate the reception which awaits his Eminence, but if the information which reaches us from Rome be correct, he will be sentenced to reclu ion in a monastery for an indefinite lime. The great desire is to exclude him from the next Conclave, and though his return might, it would appear, baffle the Papal Government is never at a loss for ways and means of effecting its object. The Cardinal leaves behind him, I understand, a protest to be published in the event of any measures being adopted against him of a harsh or illegal charac-

Vesuvius, the eraptions of which have been hitherto a sour e of amusement, has this week awakened considerable apprehension Every day almost it has presented a different appearance. On Monday it was covered with a montle of snow, which was striped at intervals with broad stripes of lava, and the explosive force of the mountain began again to increase, throwing out smoke and dark coloured sand, with slight detonations. 'The smoke holes,' said Professor Palmieri, 'were covered with sublimates of salmarine, and of metallic chlorures; the smoke issued, too not only from the cone on the summit, bu grown into the dignity of a cone.' On Tuesday night the speciacle was grand beyond all power of description. Large masses of lava were shot up to a great height, one of lava were shot up to a great height, one of which, even from the city, was seen to fall like a mighty rock, and roll down the sides of the great come. Streams of red hot lava were flowing over the orater, and bathing the whole of the upper part of the mountain, while firely lava, ashes and sand were sent up with an immense impetus, irradiating the sky far and near. At intervals during the whole of the night there was a loud and continued cannonade as of artillery, which was heard in the most distant parts of Naples. Clouds and darkness hid the mountain from us for two days, and what was going on us for two days, and what was going or under their mysterious veil it was impossible to say; but a north wind swept them all away, and then Vesuvius was again revealed in all its magnificence, and one may almost add in all its terrors. The eruption of Thursday, to quote Palmieri,— 'Was at its greatest intensity. Enormous masses of solid lava were launophed to a fear-fall height, falling and rolling down in every direction, thus rendering the ascent of the mountain yet more dangerous. The detonations were very frequent, and so violent as to cause the walls of observatory to rock back-wards and forwards.'

It was necessary to detach the scientific instruments from the walls and place them on the ground in order to preserve them from the strong undulatory shocks. Persons who were present at the time compare their sensations with those which they have felt on heard a ressel when recked by the ways. board a vessel when rocked by the waves On the same day the inhabitants of Torro del Greco were again in so much apprehen-sion of another disaster that Palmieri went over to examine the extinct holes which is 1861 spread devastation over the city. He so far tatisfied them by reporting that there was no imminent danger, and thus tranquilwas no imminent danger, and tous franquinging the population, a great proportion of whom were making arrangeme: ts to leave. As I write, the eruption continues with equal violence, and dense masses of dark smoke beaten down by a bitter north-easter are sweeping over the sea.

Cardinal D'Audrea left Naples for suffering an unusual season of distress this winter, aggravated by a competition for is continued residence here since 1864 the very little work agravated by a competition for the very little work offering from wives and daughters of the farmers of the country adjacent to that city. > Snow Storms - The greatest snow storm recorded in Russia occurred on the steppes of Kirgheez in Siberia, in 1627, destroying 285,000,000 horses, 30,000 000 cattle, 1,000 000 sheep and 10,000 camels. The greatest recorded in England is that of 1814, in which for 48 hours, the snow fell so furiously that drilts of 16, 20 and 24 feet were recorded in various places. In the South of Scotland, in 1820, there were 13 drifty days, which killed nine-tenths of all the sheep. On Eskdule Moore, out of 20,000, only 45 were left alive, and the shepherds everywhere built up hage semi-circular walls of the dead creatures to afford shelter to the living till the gale shou'd end. An inch an hour is thought to be the average rate of deposit, though four inches are said to have fallen during the severe storm on the North American continent, January 3, 1859.

THE Rev J C Fietcher gave us last evens ing, a brilliant lecture on the religion, customs and people of Brazil. Seldom have we relished anything more them the picture he laid before his audience of that exuberant garden of the tropics laden with its strange variety of fruits and flowers, teeming with perpetual harvest for the hand of man. Surely that country must be the garden of the world, and if its people had the enteragination could not set a bound to the results they would produce there. As relevant to thia comparison the Reverend gentleman stated that the best Remodies employed there for the diseases to which they are subject are invented and supplied to them by our own well known countryman, Dr J C Ayer Lowell, Mass., and that not many people only but the priesthood and the court of the Empetor down, have constant recourse in sickness to the Remedies of this widely celebrated American Chemist .- Ledger,

Last year the Colony produced $250,000 more gold than during any previous twelvemonth, and the yield of agricultural products of every description exceeded by four-fold that of the preceding year. Nanaimo, during 1867, sent away $39,000 worth of coal more than she did in 1866, and the shipments of the same place for the month of February exceeded those of any single month since the mine was opened. Twelve months ago it was a difficult matter to induce an intelligent shipmaster to load his vessel with lumber or spars at Burrard Inlet. To-day seven large vessels are loading or preparing to load at the mills there for foreign markets; and as many more vessels are on the way from abroad to take in cargoes. It is safe to predict that the shipments of this one product during 1868 will exceed the combined shipments since the first stick of timber was folled at the Inlet. be an increased development of the productive wealth of a country without every interest reaping benefit therefrom and advancing in a corresponding ratio; that the farmer, or millman or miner cannot become prosperous without sharing, to some extent, his good luck with the consumer The more, therefore, the productive wealth of the Colony is increased the larger will be the measure of prosperity enjoyed by all. This city grew five years ago upon the reputation of the gold diggings-upon their presumed richness. Very little of a reliable character was known about the country, and what little was known did not justify the excitement that occurred in the memorable years of 1862-'3. So long as men and families came to the place and invested their means, the city flourished and real estate advanced. Houses were built, stores opened, roads made, and a smile of satisfaction radiated every countenance. But when the immigration stopped and emigration commenced the reaction in the city followed. We could not maintain our position because we offered no inducement for the employment of capital. We had a surfeit of town lots, but they fell in value as the population decreased. In a word, when the mines failed the city failed too. But it is not for the purpose of recalling disagreeable remembrances that we are writing in this vein to-day Our object is to show that an element of prosperity we lacked five years ago we now possess, and that we "have grown wiser in our generation." Instead as then depending upon gold as the only source of wealth worth developing, there are half-a-dozen other productive interests in successful operation. We have lumber mills, grist mills, distilleries, broweries farms, stock-ranges and coal mines, besides many other industries, all yielding remunerative returns to those who have invested money in them, where five years ago few, if any, were in existence, and those that were realized a loss. Gold is still our main dependence: but it is not our only one. In the products we have enumerated above gold possesses valuable auxiliaries in enriching this people -products which, if properly developed, will eventually equal if they do not excel in value the yield of the precious metal. Increased production will bring increased wealth; and after a critical examination of our situation. as compared with that of previous years, we do not hesitate to say that the country is on a safer footing than it has ever before occupied, and that its future, judging from the splendid results which have attended the development of its resources during the past twelve months, is bright and full of promise.

The Naturalization Question-British Subjects vs. American Citizens.

[From the London Times, Jan 10th.]

[From the London Times, Jan 10th.]

We admit that very strong reasons may be alleged for a modification of existing laws, and that it would be quite impossible to push the principle of indefeasible allegiance to its exteme consequences. In ancient times, the Sovereign not only claimed but exercised the right of forbidding subjects to leave the realm, and of recalling them at pleasure.

The maxim nomo potest exuere patriam was consistent with these prerogatives, and the persons who might be injuriously affected by it were too few to need special consideration. The vast emigration of recent years has changed all the conditions upon which its application depended, and readered its maintainance as burdencome to the sovereign as it is to the subject. A single illustration as it is to the subject. A single illustration will suffice to put this in a clear light. If persons born in the United Kingdom owe a persons born in the United Kingdom owe a literong allegiance to her Majosty, it follows that they possess an equally durable title to ber protection. Yet it cannot for a moment be apposed that our Government could or would attempt to watch over the interests of Irishmen permanently domiciled in the United States, and perhaps engaged in plotting against their native country. It is well:

known that great discretion was necessary in dealing with the numerous claims of naturals born Englishmen resident in America for exemption from conscription during the civil war, and that our Minister judiciously abstained from intervering on behalf of those who had previously manifested their inten-tion of becoming American citizens. Pas-sages may, indeed, be quoted from treaties on constitutional law, to show that a soverorigin's obligations are not co-extensive with those of a subject; but such distinctions will not stand the test of justice, common sense, or national policy. We cannot hold the American Fenians responsible, as subjects, for acts of conspiracy in America, and yet refuse them whatever privileges may belong to that character.

Let us once more remind our readers that no concession is contemplated, except in respect of natural born British subjects, who now commit offenses against our law in the United States, afterwards to return to Great Britain and Ireland. The jurisdiction of our courts over all offences committed on British territory, either by natives or foreigners, is absolute, and a foreigner may be convicted of absolute, and a loreigner may be obviced at teason as well as an Englishman. The doubt, and the only doubt is whether a natural-born subject, having deliberately changed his country and formally renounced his allegiance, ought not to be placed on the bis allegiance, ought not to be placed on the same feeting with foreigners as regards his proceedings on a foreign soil. At present there is no method prescribed by the law of England, or we believe, of any other State, whereby allegiance can be fully renounced for this purpose.

* * * No State has a right to demand that its subjects should be tried by jury at all, the system of trial by jury being unknown to international law, and not yet adopted by the manicipal law of all or nearly all, civilized nations. The jury 'demediclate' is a purely English institution, established in an age of comparative barrbartic. In the system of trial by institution, out land to our language, and associated with oppressive disabilities of loreign merchants. We may safely predict that no complaint so anit of our language, and associated with oppressive disabilities of loreign merchants. We may safely predict that no complaint so unreasonable will be made by the American Government, and that if any reasonable complaint should be made, it will be entertained by Lord Stanley in a conciliatory spirit. We have no desire or occasion to punish. American Fenians for what they may do in the United States, and no power of so punishing them until they land in the United Kingdom. When they ogme to Ireland they may be arrested before the commission of an overt act for treason or lelony. These safeguards are quite sufficient for the maintenance of public order, but if they should prove insufficiently this country will shrink from no sacrifice that may be required to strengthen them. If the queen's Government is unable to pur down Fenianism, it is unworthy to rule Ireland, and they greatly mistake our national character who suppose that we value our existence as a United Kingdom less highly than America values her Federal Union. We have nothing to gain by retaining the nominal allegiance of a single Irishman who prefers a republic to a monarchy, but it is the paramount duty of a a single Irishman who prefers a republic to a monarchy, but it is the paramount duty of a Government to protect its loyal subjects, at any cost, against lawless fillbusters, whether native or foreign.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.—Soundness re-newed.—Any indolent ulcer or chronic sore should immediately have this excellent unguen applied to it in the manner pointed out in its accompanying directions. For thoroughly cleansing a diseased or broken skin, and for rousing its poisoned vessels or depressed nerves to healthy action, nothing can surpass Holloway's well-known Claiment. It strikingly shows its power when applied to the "old man's ulcer," which settles in the legs and often becomes most intractable under the ordinary treatment, though no case has yet withstood this cooling and healing salve. The troublesome swellings preparatory to most ulcerations of the legs are likewise reduced by the diligent application of Holloway's unguent, by giving strength of the weakened circulation through the capillaries.

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease.

New Oblines, 25th August 250.

I have cured with it, in my practice, most of the complaints for which it is recommended, and have found its effects truly wonderful in the cure of Yenered and Mercurial Disease. One of my patients had Syphilitic ulcers in his throat, which were consuming his palate and the top of his mouth. Your Sarsaparilla, and the top of his mouth. Your Sarsaparilla, at the disertion had called a work of the considerable part the ulceration had fall him. But it yielded to my administration of your Sarsaparilla; the ulcers healed, and he is well again, not of course without some disfiguration to his face. A woman who had been treated for the same disorder by mercury was suffering from this poison in her bones. They had become so sensitive to the weather that on a damp day she suffered excruciating pain in her joints and bones. She, too, was cured entirely by your Sarsaparilla in a few weeks. I know from its formula, which your agent gave me, that this Preparation from your laboratory must be a great remedy; consequently, these truly remarkable results with it have not surprised me.

DR. J. C. Ayer: Sir, I have been afflicted with a painful chronic Rheumatism for a long time, which baffled the skill of physicians, and stuck to me in spite of all the remedies I could find, until I tried your Sarsaparilla. One bottle cured me in two weeks, and restored my general health so much that I am far better than before I was attacked. I think it a wonderful medicine.

Jules Y. Getchell, of St. Louis, writes: "I have been afflicted for years with an affection of the Liver, which destroyed my health. I tried everything, and everything failed to relieve me; and I have been a broken-down man for some years from no other cause than derangement of the Liver. My beloved pastor, the Rev.
